ABOUT ME

I am a 4th-year IT student who enjoys technology and helping people solve problems. I am comfortable using computers, quick to learn new systems, and able to handle technical issues. Although I do not have call center experience yet, I am a good listener, willing to learn, and eager to use my communication skills to assist customers and contribute to the team's success.

ACADEMIC PROJECTS

- Developed web-based and database projects as part of IT coursework.
- Worked collaboratively with team members to meet project deadlines.
- Performed testing, troubleshooting, and documentation of systems.
